

The New Jersey Chapter presents: "From Crypto to Data – What Librarians Need to Know About Blockchain"

Speaker: Debbie Ginsberg

You've heard the hype: Blockchain will either revolutionize the Internet or will fizzle out by the end of 2019. The reality is both more practical and more pervasive than the hype suggests. Blockchains and related technologies will change how we track data.

Debbie Ginsberg is the Educational Technology Librarian at Illinois Institute of Technology Chicago - Kent College of Law. Debbie has given technology presentations for the American Association of Law Libraries and the Special Libraries Association Annual Conference. She has also written numerous articles on legal technology. Debbie will explain the foundations of Blockchain as well as demonstrate how important this technology will be to librarians in the upcoming decade.

The Rutgers Club Parking

The Rutgers Club is now located on the Livingston Campus in Piscataway, not on College Avenue, and not near the Rutgers Inn and Conference Center. . The most direct route is from Route 18, toward Rutgers Athletic Center (RAC).
Google maps link: <https://rumaps.rutgers.edu/campus/livingston>

Parking: Park in any visitor spot in lot 101, off of Avenue E. This lot is located behind the James Carr Library. Carr is a dark brown building. Visitor parking is in the first two rows closest to the library. Follow the path past the front of the library and follow signs to The Rutgers Club from there.
